Noj's Experiments, Speculation & Testing

This Week: Hums, Vibrations & Secret Signals

Hums, vibrations, and other things your house should not do.

FACT OF THE DAY

Some sounds are felt more than heard. A hum is a vibration doing laps.

SAFETY TIP

Ask before poking holes. Cups are not immortal. Neither are fingers. Adult help.

WEIRD WORD

Resonance: When one thing shakes and another thing joins in.

TRY TIGHT STRING

NO AIR?
NO SOUND.

SOUND FACT

Sound needs a medium. It travels through air, water, wood, and tight string.

BUILD IT: CUP-AND-STRING PHONE

NOJ LEVEL:
EASY

MATERIALS

2 paper cups
string
tape or paper clips
pencil or pushpin
markers/stickers optional

NOJ SAYS

If the string droops, congrats. You invented a quiet cup.

cup-phone field test

STEPS

- 1 Poke one small hole in each cup. Ask an adult.
- 2 Thread string through both holes and tie knots.
- 3 Pull the string tight. One person talks.
- 4 Test loose, tight, short, then long string.

TINY TEST LAB

Loose string mumbles. Tight string talks.

WHY IT WORKS: Your voice vibrates the cup. The tight string carries the vibration. The other cup shakes air again.

SECRET SIGNAL WATCH: Look for vibration clues in the story.

North Carolina. Summer vacation. Noj is looking for a new home. The team explores one possible new hometown.

Noj: So. First impressions?

Andrewey: It has ice cream. Two points.

Adamo: So the update dropped on the new game. The boss is supposed to be impossible.

Andrewey: You always say that, then win.

Noj: Alright, guys, let's go see the house.

Adamo: Huh! Weird, I've never seen my watch do this before.

Noj: There's the potential house. It looks rundown.

Adamo: It looks like a factory that tried to be a house.

Andrewey: Can we look?

Noj: Yes. The realtor said we could stop by.

Adamo: Hey, it's the symbol that appeared on my watch!

Andrewey: Hey! The door's already open.

Noj: Now remember, don't touch anything.

Andrewwey: What if something touches us first?

Noj: Then bop it on the head if it has one. Remember we are visitors here.

Andrewwey: That door symbol flashed on my screen for a second.

Adamo: Maybe your tablet died. Was it charged?

Adamo: My watch just showed that door symbol and then went back to normal.

Noj: Well, it could use some cleaning, but I could make this a home, maybe...

Adamo: You don't sound committed, it is a little rough around the edges.

Andrewew: This is somebody's house?

Adamo: This is somebody's project.

Noj: I wonder what they were working on.

Adamo: What is all this?

Andrewew: This is alot of stuff aren't houses for sale usually empty?

Noj: Seems like it had a lot of use over the years.

Adamo: That symbol was on my watch!

Andrewew: And it was on my tablet!

Adamo: My watch, it's syncing with something!

Andrewey: Hey! My tablet is doing it too!

Noj: I have a computer in the bag. It doesn't seem to be reacting like your devices were.

Andrewey: What was that!

Adamo: There. That part of the floor pretending not to be a trap door.

Andrewey: There where?

Noj: Apparently, there really is always another secret.

Adamo: Wasn't that in a book I read?

Andrewey: Basements do not glow like that.

Noj: I've never seen any thing like this before.

Adamo: If my watch explodes, I am blaming the town.

Andrewey: Can towns get grounded?

Andrewey: Why is the basement cleaner than the house?

Adamo: I bet something still uses it.

Noj: I was hoping nobody would say that out loud.

Noj: I am sure the realtor wouldn't let us come if it wasn't safe.

Adamo: This house is kinda creepy.

Andrewey: Maybe this is where they made robots.

Noj: Or maybe glowsticks. Please let it be glowsticks.

Andrewey: Whoa, what do you think is inside? Treasure?

Adamo: Nintendo Switch 3?

Noj: If it is a Nintendo Switch 3, I am buying this place.

Noj: Locked.

Adamo: Good. I like locked.

Andrewew: Oooo, a blinking button!

Adamo: Andrewew, no!

Andrewew: I thought blinking meant press!

Andrewew: Is it treasure?

Noj: Some treasure hums, but this...

TO BE CONTINUED

Andrewew: Uncle Noj?

Noj: Nobody press anything else.
